WILL NAME PARTY MEN

Governor Dole is In Accord With Committee.

Republicans will be placed on guard in the Territorial offices whenever it is possible for the executive to find a good man for the place which is vacant. The only point made against the absolute enforcement of the rule was that often in the country places it is impossible for the government to secure a candidate for office of the same party as the dominant power, and in such cases the best man findable will get the place.

This decision was reached yesterday afternoon at a meeting held at the executive chambers between Governor Dole, Chairman Kennedy and Messrs. Cooke and Wright of the Republican executive committee. It was announced early in the meeting that what the committee wanted was an understanding as to the policy of the Governor as to subsequent appointments. It was urged that the party had need of its greatest strength this coming fall, and that there was no better way to foster the party than to give to its members any chance that offers to enter the public service.

After a somewhat full presentation of the case Governor Dole is reported to have told the committee that he would always follow the plan of putting on guard only men of his own party, when they may be found. He pointed out that there are times when it becomes necessary to place a man of another party, owing to the fact that there are no good men obtainable from the party of the chief executive. He said, however, that if the Republican applicant was as good as the applicant of another party, all things being equal, he would without fail appoint the Republican. This met with the approval of the committee, and there was no further discussion there.

From this the talk went on to the matter of several appointments which are to be made very soon. In each case there were several names mentioned, but there was no definite conclusion reached in any of the matters under consideration. It is understood that there may be a further conference before there is any definite conclusion.

There will be a great meeting on Saturday when the Republicans denounce the paper bill of Wilcox. There will be a good list of speakers and there will be strong resolutions adopted. One member of the Republican committee appeared in print yesterday to say that there would be no reference as to the Kohala water scheme, as the name of one of the party leaders was connected with it. The Kohala matter was mentioned by the maker of the motion for the meeting and there are Republicans who will score the scheme in the meeting, if for no other purpose than to prevent the growth of the idea, as expressed by the committee-man, that anything is all right that has a leader's name with it, and to show that the Republican party will not be a party to the use of its name for the gaining of personal advantage.

DEATH OF NED HOUSE.

An American of Japan Known to Many Honoluluans.

Edward Howard House, of whose death in Japan on December 18 word has just been received, was born in Boston, September 5, 1836, and had thus entered on his sixty-sixth year. He began as a bank note engraver, but went into newspaper work on the Boston Courier; from 1858 to 1859 he was on the staff of the New York Tribune as editorial writer, war correspondent, and musical and dramatic critic, and worked also on the New York Times for two years. He went to Japan in 1870, and for years was correspondent of several New York papers. He taught English in the University of Japan, 1871-72, established the Tokio Times in 1877 and conducted it for three years, and had written much in championship of Japan's international rights. Among his books are to be named "The Japanese Expedition to Formosa," "Japanese Episodes," "Yone Santo," "The Midnight Warning," "The Shimomaki Affair," "The Koshima Affair," several of these are fiction. Mr. House was a constant contributor to magazines, such as the Atlantic Monthly and Harper's. Under great physical disabilities he nevertheless performed a great amount of work for more than twenty years he had been paralyzed from his waist downward, and could not stand erect or move except in a wheeled chair. Great honor was shown him by the Japanese, whose interests he made known, and the Emperor had but recently given him the order of the Sacred Treasure. House never married. He visited America in company with his adopted daughter, Koto, twice, the last time in 1892, when he stayed for two years.

The highest possible is 300.

C. J. McCarthy has commenced furnishing the new quarters for the Criterion saloon in the Waverley block, just vacated by the Porter Furniture Company. The furniture is of mahogany, and the fixtures are the finest made for saloon decorations. They cost in the neighborhood of $12,000. The arrangement will be completed by March 1, when the present Criterion saloon on Fort street will be closed, and the new one opened for business. The tiles for the floor are expected on the next steamer from San Francisco. On the Bethel street side will be a handsomely fitted up barber shop. A gasoline engine and dynamo are to be installed, which will furnish the establishment with its own electric lighting plant.

SEEMS TO HAVE DONE THE PARROT ACT.

Captain Perry, of the battleship Iowa, is being severely criticised by the people and papers of the Argentine Republic because in a speech at Talcahuana, Chile, he inadvertently said that that country would doubtless achieve a splendid success if it ever should go to war. The fear seems to be that the Chileans will regard Captain Perry's expression as the opinion of an expert and will straightforth declare war against Argentina.

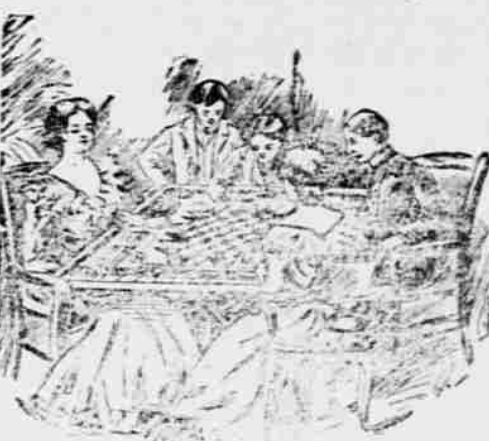

FUN FOR KERMIT AND THE KIDS.

Kermit Roosevelt and some of his chums were lately discovered fishing in the government aquarium east of the White House. This is stocked by the fish commission every spring and when the cold weather comes on the water is drawn off and the fish are removed to the warmer tanks of the commission. When detected the boys were in possession of several good-sized lobsters, and were about to seize the gold fish.

A bay horse, with black feet, strayed from the owner. Reward will be given if returned to the I X L Hack Stand, King street.

The stockholders' meeting of the First National Bank will be held on March 8. An election of officers will then take place.
